Lord Dufferin on Pet Names.

[From the N. Y. World.]

Whatever Lord Dufferin says is pretty certain to be worth saying and well said, and his little speech before the scholars of the Ursuline Convent in Quebec offers no exception to this general rule. His allusion to "the elegant phraseology of a United States magazine" which called the Countess "Kate" (her Christian name being Harriet), and credited him with the possession of a glass eye (of which he is guiltless), will meet the sympathy of the subject of the average newspaper "personal." But this was only a minor episode, the main direction and purpose of his address being a criticism of the custom of making public property of the names of women, and through the agency of the newspaper placing the whole country on as familiar terms with them as would be their neighbours in a little country town who knows them as Polly Smith or Kitty Jones. It will be considered of course by the average reader that the Earl is a trifle too particular, and that, as a rule, the young ladies of the present age, and this continent at least, are only too anxious to have their names in print. In such matters—possibly because as a people we have been losing of late years something of the exclusiveness characteristic of the old English home circle—public sentiment on the two sides of the water is not exactly the same; and our enterprising local papers, with their "society column" and "personal gossip," are educational agencies only beginning to be employed in England. It must, nevertheless, be conceded that from his standpoint, that of a sensitive man who objects to having his wife, sister, or daughter familiarly canvassed by every reader of a penny paper, the Canadian Viceroy's comment is just. We could have wished, indeed, that the speaker had gone a little further and ridiculed or reprehended with due severity the abominable practice into which young women have fallen nowadays, of tagging the diminutive "ie" to their names. Under this treatment such honest, melodious or stately names as Adelaide, Charlotte, Elizabeth, Ellen, Sarah, and Louisa, become Addie, Lottie, Lizzie, Nellie, Sadie, and Louie, and give the hearer the impression—sometimes, no doubt, a just one—that their owners are habitual contributors to some "independent" newspaper. The spirit of Ambrose Phillips, to whose vagaries and vapours we owe the expressive phrase "namby-pamby," is as much at war with true womanly dignity as with masculine vigour. Fancy Lottie Cushman holding an audience rapt as Meg Merrilies, or Bessie Browning writing "Casa Guidi Windows," or "Aurora Leigh," or Florence Nightingale doing her work at Scutari! Miss Anthony as Susie would be robbed of much that now inspires the awe of mankind. Shakespeare writing for all time and knowing that in due course this evil state of things would come to pass, invested his female characters, whether arch and sprightly, loving and tender, or stately and gifted with strength above the common kind of women, with names that are not susceptible of adulteration, and called them Beatrice or Rosalind' Jessica or Miranda, Portia or Imogen. So general is this absurd practice becoming nowadays, that we have fears of seeing it invade even the realm of sacred literature. Under the auspices of some such able editor as Talmage or Murray we may yet be presented to Mollie (or Mamie) who chose the better part while her sister, Mattie, occupied herself with matters of the house, or read in an improved Bible how Ruthie gleaned in the fields of Boaz or by faith Sadie bore Isaac at the age of ninety.

HE DIDN'T WANT THE 'SCRIPTION.—He was an old man, and he had a bit of conductor's pasteboard stuck in his hat. He walked into a drug store and inquired, "Have you got any good whisky?"

"Yes, sir," replied the gentlemanly druggist.

"Gimme half a pint."

"Have you got a doctors prescription?"

"No."

"Can't sell it then, sir. Jury in session; must be strict."

Where can I get a doctor?" sadly inquired the aged inebriate.

"I am a physician, sir" willingly responded the druggist.

"Can't you give me that—what you call it, 'scription?"

"Well, I might." And the doctor wrote out a prescription blank, calling for so many ounces of "spiritus frumenti." He filled a snug looking bottle with the article, posted a label on it, numbered to correspond with the paper, and presenting the bottle to the venerable roysterer, remarked, in the most business-like way imaginable: "A dollar and a half, sir."

"A dollar and a half!" gasped his astonished customer. "Ain't that pretty high, mister?"

"It's our price—a dollar for the prescription and fifty cents for the medicine."

"Yes, well," slowly replied the wicked old duffer, as he slowly buttoned up the half pint in his overcoat pocket, "I guess, boss, that I don't want the 'scription. Here's your half a dollar, and he stuck his tongue on one side of his mouth, winked ircnically at him of the mortar and pestle, and walked out.—"Worcester, Mass, Press."

A troupe of performers, known in England as Treloar's London Imperial Clown Cricketers, are to visit America in August, and, besides field performances, will give entertainments in theatres. They are skilful cricketers and gymanasts, and very funny as clowns.

The war of the Buffalo elevator-owners continues. They have not only got down to elevating grain for nothing, but last week at George J. Whitney's elevator they were paying $1 a thousand bushels for the privilege of elevating it.

The Bessemer steamship which was to perform such wonders on the Channel trip between Dover and Calais, and which cost the enterprising speculators exactly $1,000,000, has just been sold for $100,000, and will hereafter be employed in some more ignoble traffic.

John Cody, of Sevier, Tenn., shot the lover of his wife, but the wound was not sufficient to kill, and so on the following day he aimed more carefully, and with deadly effect. The English literary women have protested against the room set apart for their use in the British Museum. They claim that it is approached by a narrow passage-way, instead of by the broad stairs leading elsewhere, that it is cold, gloomy and dimly lighted, the walls covered with dirt, and has unpainted floors. They want their rights, and they insist that if the Museum belongs to the nation, and not to one man, they intend to have them.

The suicide of George R. Frintz, in Cincinnati, at the time set for his marriage, is supposed to have been caused by his lack of money with which to pay the expence of his honeymoon tour. The young lady was dressed for the ceremony, the guests were assembled but Frintz did not come. He was searched for and found in his room, but at sight of the friend who called he shot himself. A few cents were all he had, and preparations had been made for a costly journey.

The Under Secretary of State to the Lieutenant-Governor.

OTTAWA, 29th May, 1876.

SIR,—I have the honor to transmit to you, herewith for the information of your Government, a copy of an Order of His Excellency the Governor-General in Council, transferring and appropriating certain lands therein described, for the use of the Legislature and Government of the Province of British Columbia.

I have, etc.,
(Signed) EDOUARD LANGEVIN.

Government House, Ottawa, Friday, 26th May, 1876.

PRESENT:

His Excellency the Governor-General in Council.

ON the recommendation of the Honorable the Minister of Public Works, and under the provisions of the 8th section of the "British North America Act, 1867," and the 8th item of the Third Schedule attached thereto,—

His Excellency, by and with the advice of the Queen's Privy Council for Canada, has been pleased to order, and it is hereby ordered, that the following properties situated in the localities hereinafter mentioned in the Province of British Columbia be, and they are hereby, transferred to and appropriated for the use of the Legislature and Government of the said Province of British Columbia, that is to say:—

1. The lots and Buildings marked B, C and E on plan No. 1, signed by the Honorable Henry Holbrook, Chief Commissioner of Lands and Works, and being Lot B, the Government Buildings; Lot C, a School House and Reserve; and Lot E, the Police Barracks, all in Victoria.

2. The Lot and Building represented on plan No. 6, signed as above, and being the Lieutenant-Governor's residence at Victoria.

3. The Public Building and Land represented on plan No. 8, signed as above, and being a School House and Reserve in Victoria District.

4. The Lots and Buildings indicated on plan No. 10 by the letters C, E. and F, and signed as above, being Lot C, the Court House and Jail; Lot E, a Public School House; and Lot F, a Public Hospital, all at New Westminster.

5. The Public Buildings and Lands indicated on plan No. 16, signed as above, being the Court House and Jail at Nanaimo.

6. The Public Buildings and Lands indicated on plan No. 17, by letter A, and signed as above, being the Court House and Jail at Hope.

The Youth of British Columbia.

What strikes a thoughtful man very much in this place, is the absence of many influences which imperceptibly shape the characters and tastes of the young in older societies. We love our children, and it is but a natural wish and hope, on our part, that they may turn out to be something better than we are, more gentle, more courteous, and more useful in their generation. If these mere parental hopes are to be fulfilled, we think it must be especially due here to home training, for the outside influences in social life in Victoria are not, it must be admitted, of an entirely good or wholesome kind. Boys are often harmed, and not improved, by the society of their seniors, and by the companions whom they meet in the streets. The efficacy of home training diminishes as children grow up, and they become exposed more and more to these deleterious outside influences. It cannot, of course, be expected that a young community should present all the advantages which old society affords. In point of material well-being, in form, stature, and bodily health, the future youths of British Columbia will probably compare well with their kinsfolk in England. But what will they be in morals, in character, and in tastes? In an old country, there are many things that tend to give a noble cast to the thoughts of young people, and a generous course to their sympathies. They may live in humble dwellings, and all the surroundings of their actual daily lives may be uninviting, but they are at least in a land of history and traditions, where the old cathedral, the ruined tower, or the field of battle on which their own forefathers may have died, give them some idea of a continuous national life, and some feeling of reverence for those who have departed. A feeling of reverent love is an excellent thing for young people to have. We cannot too much desire for them, also, whatever influences are fitted to stimulate their imaginations wholesomely at a time when they are merely moving about in a world which they have not yet realized. Imagination is one of the great powers of the soul. It enables us to commingle at will the spiritualities of our nature with the energies and shapes of matter, and this opens a thousand secret springs of love and appreciation, and gives a sacredness to places and things which seem barren to the ungifted observer. To check the imagination of a boy, or to neglect his imaginative education at the season of joyous spirits and mounting hopes, is to him a great unkindness, and indeed an injury, for it is the faculty that will enable him to look with new eyes on things which usuage has made common, and on all the mysteries of his being. It puts a poor boy in many respects on a level with a rich boy—for instance, the child of a labourer, "backed by no ancestral graves," nevertheless, through his imagination, can hear ancestral voices speaking to him from the figures on the stained windows, or on the decaying tapestry in the church. We do not say that the imagination of young people cannot be cultivated here—no doubt they might be, and are stimulated by the glorious aspects of external nature; but something else is wanted; some concrete things like old buildings, or memorable objects, connected with great men and great deeds in order to touch a boy's finer nature amidst his coarse pleasures and amidst what Wordsworth happily calls his "glad animal moments." One finds these things in England, but you cannot find them here. There are also in an old country where society has been undisturbed, a certain tone of thought and feeling, and certain usages and expectancies which, even when merely conventional, mould and influence the character. England is so old a country and society has been firmly established in it for so long a time that the people are quite homogeneous. An English school is simply a little England, and a boy who gets there soon finds out what is the "proper form" in the opinion of the democratic and critical assemblage in the playground. In young countries, among a mixed population, the tone may be good enough in the schools in some places, but there is nothing national or fixed about it. Those parents in English colonies, therefore, who know England, frequently—we might say, generally—prefer to send their children to England to be educated. Only a few of course can do this, but the feeling is widespread that, if possible, their children should be trained to exhibit the best points of the English character. This feeling indicates an appreciation of a difference between education in the colonies and education in the old country—a difference arising probably from some of the causes stated. There is another advantage in favor of the older country. The gardens, and fields and the houses, with their furniture and ornaments, are generally speaking, prettier and more handsome. The same may be said of churches, bridges and other public structures. All this, we should imagine, has a good effect in helping to produce in young folks at least a readiness to appreciate what is beautiful. As they grow up, they have the opportunity of meeting other lads from refined homes, and of conversing with their superiors in culture and ability. Thus they are gradually forming for themselves a higher standard of thought and action, and the result is that, whether from inherited conditions, or from the above training and surroundings, a well-brought up English youth is a fine specimen of what a young man should be. Now what sort of a youth is the British Columbian youth so far as we are able to judge of him at present, and what is he likely to be in the next generation? We prefer to leave this question for our readers to answer. The country perhaps is too young yet to allow an entirely just opinion to be formed of what our homebred youths are likely to be. The best of them, now amongst us, are equal to young men in any part of the world, but these have had the advantage of home training by parents of good stock and education. The next generation may not be quite so good. On the whole our own impression is that the British Columbian youth of the present day is not, in all respects, a satisfactory specimen. He has not had large opportunities, and has been brought up under considerable disadvantages as regards his surroundings. But one remark must here be made. We must not put all the blame on him. We ourselves are largely responsible for those social influences and habits which have helped to spoil him. If we ourselves live coarse lives, and men in good worldly station, indulge in rough and even obscene conversation and merriment; if there is not in society here any sufficiently restraining opinion or usage to curb the tongue and check hateful gossip how can we expect our boys to be good and pure, or to become manly, reverent and courteous? It is not enough to implant the seeds and energies of moral good in infancy at home. These have there effect, but a time comes when the boy cannot be always within reach of his possibly hard working mother and his sisters; he gets into the streets and meets other boys. This cannot be avoided; nor can boys ever be so hedged round with proprieties, that their exercises and games can only be conducted under some form of restraint. But a great deal, nevertheless, can be done among ourselves to help the boys, by our co-operating to discover the forces of moral evil in our midst. In the first place, let men and women too, in their own homes, bear carefully in mind that every improper sentence uttered, or wrong action performed in the presence of the young folks, is to some extent educating their minds and hearts in a false direction. Let grown men, particularly, in their out-of-door conversations with boys, or in the hearing of boys, remember the same fact, and carefully avoid whatever is vulgar and "slangy," and still more what is indelicate or of unquestionable propriety. Boys' clubs for out-door sports and boys' meetings for any such objects as raising the standard of their health and intelligence, should be more encouraged than they are by men of station and refinement among us. We do not know a place where less is done in this respect. We permit our boys to grow up as they may, and then blame them for what they are. The lack of healthy mental and social culture is, we repeat, not altogether the fault of the boys. Still, after all has been done for them, they themselves must clearly understand that they must make great efforts, if they wish to be an honor to their parents and their country, and to be pure, good and true men. Let them learn to estimate at its true value the slang of the bar-room and the chatter of petty politicians in this small community. If they ever go out into the great world and learn what is really valued among men, they will regard the one with loathing and the other with contempt. If the boys will take our advice, they will not permit those golden hours of childhood to pass away unimproved in which each of them may lay up treasures of sympathy and thought. Do they not feel sometimes, in their own hearts, that this is the right thing to do? Have they never in reading books of great writers, or in looking upon the open face of nature, experienced high instincts and new-born hopes, or have they never had visions of some dream-like glory to assure them that this world is not their final home? We must look after the boys; they are more to us than the railway or the graving dock. If we cannot do this in this Christian land—

"Great God; I'd rather be
A Pagan suckled in a creed outworn:
So might I, standing on some pleasant lee,
Have glimpses which might make me less forlorn;
Have sight of Proteus coming from the sea,
Or hear old Triton blow his wreathed horn!"

The New Lieutenant-Governor.

The appointment of the Hon. A. N. Richards, Q.C., to the position of Lieutenant-Governor of British Columbia has been made the occasion of a coarse attack on that gentleman in the columns of our local contemporary. That was to have been expected,—one might almost say wished, as abuse from that quarter has come to be regarded as the best certificate of character. Canadian exchanges received yesterday contain notices of the appointment, and it may not be amiss to let the people of this Province know in what estimation their new Governor is held in his native Province of Ontario, where he has resided nearly half a century, and where he has for many years occupied a prominent position both at the Bar and in the political arena. We have before us exchanges representing all shades of politics, in every one of which the appointment of Mr. Richards is spoken of approvingly. One Conservative journal says, "This residence (in B. C.) has enabled Mr. Richards to become thoroughly acquainted with the condition of that part of the Dominion lying on the Pacific coast, and this circumstance, in connection with his invariable honesty of purpose, honorable course as a member of the Ontario Bar, and thorough knowledge of constitutional law, eminently fits him for his new and most responsible position." Even the Toronto Mail thinks the appointment as good a one as Mr. Mackenzie could have made, while such journals as the Ottawa Times regard the selection as a most happy one, and express confidence that the new Governor will aid in bringing about a better state of feeling between the Pacific Province and the central Government. So he will, if the people of British Columbia do not allow themselves to be misled by a selfish and unscrupulous clique which desires to fatten upon its country's misfortunes; and we do not think there is much ground for apprehending danger in that direction. The more thoughtful of our people have come to see, if they did not always see, the folly of "fighting Mackenzie" at the bidding and to serve the purposes of a desperate clique who have brought this fair Province so near the verge of anarchy and ruin; and we feel every confidence that the change in the head of the Executive of this Province will conduce to bringing about a better state of affairs. At any rate, we feel certain that the vulgar and malicious attacks of our contemporary will meet with universal condemnation amongst all right thinking persons in this Province. Mr. Richards is highly connected and comes to us with an honorable and unsullied reputation; and it is unjust and un-English to greet him with a tirade of unmeaning abuse on the very threshold of the Province and before ever he has had the opportunity of doing anything to merit either praise or censure.

COMING!!

THEATRE ROYAL.

On Tuesday Eve., July 25

After a Long and Successful run at

BALDWIN'S ACADEMY OF MUSIC,

SAN FRANCISCO,

Professor S. S.

BALDWIN

—AND—

CLARA BALDWIN

SPIRITUALISM EXPOSED!

Endorsed by Upwards of 1000 Prominent Divines, Editors, Literati and Notables!

$500 CHALLENGE!

PROF. BALDWIN will perform by

HUMAN AGENCY

All the startling manifestations of the most famous mediums who claim the same tests, given under the same conditions, to be accomplished by aid of

SPIRITS.

What PROF. BALDWIN will do.

FOSTER!

I will cause blood letters, at the will of the audience, to appear upon my naked arm.

JENNIE HOLMES' TRANSMUTATION!

I will cause water to turn to wine and wine back to water, in full view of the audience.

THE GREAT HANDCUFF TEST!

I challenge any officer of the law or medium to bring to my seance the newest and best patent handcuffs.

MATERIALIZATION!

I will fully duplicate the famous Katie King apparition; showing spirit faces, which are often recognized by the audience.

CLAIRVOYANCY!

I will give clairvoyant tests unequalled by any medium. Clara Baldwin, while in a trance state, will reveal the past, present and future.

THE FAMOUS PILLORY TEST!

I will be locked by the committee head and arms in a pillory, and the keyhole filled with sealing-wax, and I will escape in thirty seconds without breaking the seal.

DAVENPORT BROS!

I will allow a committee of four gentlemen (selected from the audience) to tie me with ropes, and I will escape inside of one minute. I will produce while tied the most wonderful manifestations.

FAY OUTDONE!

The committee will bind me hand and foot, and while in this condition a coat from the back of one of the audience will be transferred to my back, and after being sewed securely together at the neck and cuffs, will be instantaneously, and in full view of the audience, returned by some unseen power to its owner. Not a knot untied or a seal broken.

CHALLENGE TO MEDIUMS!

I unequivocally and without reservation pronounce the so-called phenomena of Spiritualism humbuggery, and denounce mediums, one and all, as frauds! Notwithstanding that Spiritualists claim that Clara Baldwin and myself are mediums, I hereby agree to wager the sum of $500 or more, that I can fully, completely and satisfactorily, perform and expose any manifestations of so-called spirit power which I am permitted to witness three times.

(Signed) PROF. S. S. BALDWIN.
Exposer of Spiritualism.

Opinions of the San Francisco Press.

"Prof. Baldwin's seance last evening was highly interesting and fully sustained the promises of the programme. Baldwin is an adept and keeps his large audiences in wonder and astonishment from the beginning to the close of the programme.—S. F. Alta.

"Prof. Baldwin continues his exposures of spiritualism at the Academy of Music to the largest audiences ever gathered in that cosy building. His feats wrought by natural means are puzzling in the extreme. The committee who have him in close quarters cannot discover his method of performing his seemingly supernatural feats and the audience deem them past finding out until he chooses to explain them."—S. F. Bulletin.

"In the second test, a pair of the newest patent handcuffs, shaped like a figure "8," with the combination lock, were placed upon Baldwin's wrists so tightly that the blood started beneath their edges, and across the cuffs between the wrists before the cuffs were locked a solid iron ring was placed. Then one of the committee held Baldwin's hands and the house was darkened; in an instant the ring left its place across and around the cuffs, and when light was admitted it was found upon the arm of the astonished committee man."—S. F. Chronicle.

Arrival of the Mail Steamship.

The mail steamship City of Panama—Wm. B. Seabury commander—arrived at Esquimalt from San Francisco at 2 o'clock yesterday morning with 40 cabin and 76 steerage passengers, 402 tons of freight and 18 sacks of mail matter on board. She left San Francisco on the 20th at 1 p. m. and experienced pleasant weather and favorable winds during the entire trip; on the 22d at 10:45 a.m. passed the steamship Dakota bound south. The City of Panama brings the following passengers and 246 tons of freight for this city:—Lieut. Diggle, Prof. Baldwin and wife, C. E. Locke, W. Garreson, Mrs. J. Jones and son, A.J.McClellan and wife, S.D. Jones, Mrs. Blum and 2 children, C. C. McKenzie, Mrs. S. Somersett, A. Pettingill, P. Bowin, R. Muir, F. G. Richards, J. Barratt, N. H. Martin, John A. McCrae J. Strang, wife and 2 children, G. Howe, C. Hasken, C. A. Cope, D. White, C. Granville, A. W. Jones, J. Anderson, H. Secord, A. Secord, C. Brown, J. M. Dural, A. C. Burns, and 4 Chinamen.

Provincial Indian Commissioner.

Archibald McKinlay, Esq., of Lac la Hache, has been appointed Indian Commissioner by the Provincial Government. Mr. McKinlay is a pioneer of British Columbia and has the advantage of an extensive acquaintance with the habits and wants of Indians and a complete knowledge of their characteristics traits, which in conjunction with other qualifications admirably fit him for the office to which he has been appointed. In other respects the appointment is also well made; the Dominion Government, it will be remembered, selected A. C. Anderson, Esq., a gentleman resident on this Island, to represent their interests, a fact which combined with the appointment by the Local Government of a resident of the Mainland will ensure an amicable arrangement of all matters which may require their decision.

THE CANADIAN TEAM AT WIMBLEDON.—A Globe special cable dispatch, dated the 10th inst., says the Wimbledon meeting has begun at Altcar, near Liverpool. The Canadian Wimbledon team was defeated by the First Lancashire, but it beat the Liverpool rifle brigade, which is considered the best perhaps in Lancashire. The first prize was won by Sergt. T. Mitchell, 13th Batt., Hamilton; 2nd, by Lieut. Barnqill, Nova Scotia; 3rd by Sergeant D. Mitchell, 12th Batt., Hamilton; 4th by Pete Turnbull, of Quebec. At Wimbledon, in the aggregate for the Alfred prize, Sergt. I. Mitchell 13th, Batt., Hamilton, won the twelfth prize of £5. The Canadians also shot to-day for the Windmill and Alexandra prizes. The winners are not yet declared. The Canadians are all in camp and hopeful. A dispatch from London dated 22d, just received, says that England has defeated the Scotch, Australian, and Canadian teams in the order named. A London dispatch of 20th also says the Elcho Shield was won by the English eight. At the close of the 900 yards' trial Scotland stood 1007, England 979, Ireland 928. At the finish of the 1000 yards' contest for the shield the score was—England 1,643, Scotland 1,448, Ireland 1,383.

A RIP VAN WINKLE.—On Saturday last a man was discovered by the police in a dilapidated shanty near Johnson street in a most helpless condition and was taken in charge for safekeeping. He states that the last thing he remembers is a very festive celebration of the "glorious fourth," since which time he has been wrapped in oblivion and negligent alike of food and drink. The local Rip Van Winkle was of course in a most pitiable condition, and yesterday when his name was called at the Police Court, the Magistrate remarked that there was no charge against him and that he probably required medical treatment and food more than anything else. He was accordingly transferred to the hospital.

WEEKLY BRITISH COLONIST.—The weekly edition of the BRITISH COLONIST, the largest, cheapest and best paper in the Province, is now ready for mailing. It contains a large amount of reading matter of interest to people abroad, and is the most valuable medium of intelligence on the British Pacific. Price one bit.

THE RAILWAY MEMORIAL.—A rumor has gained credence in town that British Columbians and friends of the Province at present in London have held a meeting and decided to request a member of the House of Commons to ask the Home Secretary what action has been taken in connection with British Columbia's railway memorial.

BUTE INLET.—The steamer Sir James Douglas will leave here to-morrow morning for Waddington harbor, Bute Inlet, with supplies for X. division C. P. R. S. now engaged surveying the railway route on the banks of the Homathco river.

AQUATIC.—Cornell won the interuniversity boat race at Saratoga on the 19th, Harvard was second, Columbia third, Union fourth, Wesleyan fifth and Princeton last.

MR. CAMBIE of the Canadian Pacific Railway Survey arrived at Quesnelle a few days since having made the trip from the sea-board at Dean Canal successfully and is now on his way to this city.

FROM PUGET SOUND.—The steamer Isabel brought the overland mails from Port Townsend last evening, also some 20 passengers, 550 feet of lumber, 6 head of cattle, and a quantity of other freight.

Professor Baldwin.

In another column is the advertisement of Prof. Baldwin, which declares that he will to-night duplicate the most startling feats of the most noted mediums, the same feats as are accepted by all spiritualists as the phenomena which warrant the founding thereon of the phenomenal religion yclept Spiritualism. Prof. Baldwin is assicted by Mrs. Baldwin, and they certainly have received the endorsement of many leading papers and noted persons throughout the States, their most recent success being at the Academy of Music, San Francisco, where they gave their startling and yet thoroughly amusing seances for two weeks to large and applauding audiences. From the great interest manifested in this subject by many of the prominent citizens of Victoria, it is more than probable that Prof. Baldwin will be witnessed with wrapt attention and the performances scrutinized with the keenest interest at the Theatre Royal to-night. Inspector Bowden has agreed to bring a pair of the best handcuffs and will place them upon Prof. Baldwin. He thinks if Baldwin escapes it will indeed be by the agency of spirits. A private seance is to be given at the Driard Hotel at noon to-day to a few influential citizens who are interested in this subject. The plan for reserved seats may be seen at any hour to-day at Redfern's jewelry store.

MORE LIGHT WANTED.—Has nobody a primer on Political Economy which he can lend to the editor of the Standard? We took the trouble to point out to him what sort of position he was placing himself in before educated men by mixing up a local political question in a Province of Canada, the solution of which depended on a number of considerations, with a pure science, which stands apart from all movements having definite practical ends and which under any circumstances could be concerned only with one aspect of the question. He nows goes back to where he started from. What our friend wants is not argument, but enlightenment. To enlighten a country editor, who imagines he is in a position to enlighten the world, would be too serious an undertaking for us to attempt.

MAN DROWNED.—As the steamer City of Panama was leaving San Francisco, when just off Lime Point on her way up here, a salor fell overboard whilst arranging the tackle of one of the boats. The steamer was moving along rapidly, but a boat was lowered as quickly as possible and in about eighteen minutes the body of the unfortunate man was recovered and hoisted on board. The usual efforts to resuscitate him were made but without avail. and the steamer put back and transferred the body to a pilot boat for burial in San Francisco. Deceased was a Frenchman by birth and had recently arrived in California.

PUBLIC MEETING.—The people of Esquimalt held a public meeting last night to take into consideration the most appropriate manner of receiving Lord Dufferin. The meeting was largely attended and it was resolved to give a very hearty reception to his Lordship. The following gentlemen were appointed a Committee of Management: J. H. Innes (Chairman), Dr. Coates, Messrs. W. Bennett, C. E. Dawson, Dobbin, W. Fisher, M.P.P., Leech, and F. Williams, M.P.P. Mr. G. M. Sproat attended and explained the views of the Victoria Committee.

LOST HIS ARM.—The S. F. Chronicle says "Charles Sutton (of Maguire's Minstrel troupe) while out hunting in the Forks of the Santim, Oregon, July 9th, accidentally shot himself in the right arm so badly that its amputation was necessary. The troupe had closed a successful engagement in Portland, and were giving a round of performances in the interior, on their way back to San Francisco." Sutton was here only a few weeks since playing at the Theatre and will be remembered as the funny man of the minstrels.

FROM PORTLAND.—The steamer Gussie Telfair arrived here at 10 o'clock yesterday morning direct from Portland which place she left on Saturday evening. She brings 80 tons of freight for Victoria merchants, 16 for New Westminster and 10 for Nanaimo. The following passengers were on board:—Mrs. D.J. Malarkey, Mrs. Kelly, Miss Bacon, Miss E. O'Conner, Master F. O'Connor, Master D. J. Malarkey, H. Nice and W. Mansell. The Gussie Telfair will leave for New Westminster to-morrow morning.

CITY POLICE COURT.—Yesterday before His Honor H. C. Courtney, Minnie Knight appeared on remand charged with attempting to commit suicide, but as there was no further evidence adduced to prove the attempt she was discharged with a caution. John Foster charged with vagrancy was fined $25, in default one month's imprisonment. Fine paid. Several drunk and disorderlies and three cases of supplying intoxicating liquor to Indians were disposed of in a summary manner.

A LUNATIC DROWNS HIMSELF.—Mr. Richard Hoey, of Lillooet, recently left the upper country with a lunatic in charge destined for the asylum in this city, and, our informant states, whilst Mr. Hoey was taking a meal at a house on the road between Lillooet and Lytton, the lunatic escaped the vigilance of those near him and rushing towards Fraser river plunged into the swift current and was drowned.

CORRECTION.—In our last issue we stated that Mr. Richard Woods had been appointed a registrar of births, deaths and marriages, whereas his appointment merely confers upon him the the power to issue marriage licenses to those who may be hymeneally inclined. The Registrar-General performs the other duties.

BRITISH COLUMBIANS BACK.—Mme. L. Blum and family, Mr. A. J. McLellan and family, Mr. C. C. McKenzie, Mr. F. G. Richards, Jr., and several other British Columbians returned home per steamer City of Panama yesterday.

BISHOP CRIDGE.—A dispatch dated Quebec, July 21, says:—Bishop Cridge of the Pacific coast sails to-morrow for England, as the delegate of the Reformed Episcopal Church to the convocation of the Free Church of England.

SEATTLE RACES. — Several owners of fast stock left here yesterday to witness the Seattle races which take place this week. Three or four British Columbian horses compete for some of the purses offered.

THE steamer City of Panama sailed from Esquimalt for Puget Sound yesterday at 1 p.m.

DECLINED TO PULL.—After a good deal of tall talk and banter it has been decided that Cotsford and McLean will not pull another race for some time to come. Cotsford is satisfied with his signal victory of Saturday last and will enjoy his laurels for the present.

NEW STEAMER.—The steamer George W. Elder arrived at San Francisco on Thursday last. having made the run from New York in 69 days. She will shortly be placed on the route between San Francisco and Portland and is the property of the O. S. S. Co.

FOR THE INLET.—Yesterday the steamer Beaver towed the bark Annie Grey to Hastings Mill, Barrard Inlet, where the latter will load lumber.

The Dufferin Reception Committee.

EDITOR COLONIST.—I have had the pleasure of receiving visits from several workingmen who have spontaneously called upon me, somewhat to my surprise, to pay their subscriptions in aid of the Dufferin welcome. They accounted for their visit by showing me an anonymous placard which has been posted about the city. I have read the placard, and find there is nothing in it worth attention. It is evidently the work either of a foreigner or of some disloyal vagabond who from his existence here, would seem to be glad enough to enjoy the shelter of a flag and takes the opportuuity of spitting on it in the dark. It is well known that the chief object of the committee has been to place the whole movement for the reception and entertainment of Lord Dufferin on a broad, popular basis. The workingmen, as usual in such matters, are the mainstay of the committee. It is the rich who are backward both in their efforts and in their subscriptions. So far as I am personally concerned, I do not mix up my duty to the Queen with Canadian political questions, for the position of which, under our constitutional system, her representative is not responsible. Your obedient servant,

GILBERT MALCOLM SPROAT.

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

EUROPE.

RAGUSA, July 22.—Mustar Pasha Djelauin Pasha, and Soblizcki Pasha with seven battalions of infantry, four companies of cavalry and 8 guns attacked the Servians in their entrenchments before Belina on Thursday, and after four hours sanguinary combat the Servians fled and the Turks captured 4 guns and 4 forts.

PARIS, July 22.—The Journal des Debates publishes a special dispatch from Semlin which states that Servians were defeated before Belina and the Servian Gen. Olympic's line of retreat cut off. The news of Servian Gen. Tchmerayoff's defeat at Nisa and his retreat to Alexinatz is also confirmed.

LONDON, July 22.—Special correspondent of Times says we may expect daily a renewal of the Turkish attack on Saitchar and much gloom prevails here. While Turks continue thus to persistenly assail Eastern flank of Servians and while Servians cannot do more than hold their own with difficulty, relative operations toward southwest which where chiefly intended are manifestly impossible. More fighting in same quarter is momentanarily expected.

LONDON, July 22.—Turkish representatives abroad say the Sultan will appear in public in a few days, when a firman announcing certain important reforms will be promulgated.

Private telegrams from Constantinople say the Sultan is suffering from delirium tremens. The Sultan's brother has been sent to the war in order to induce the Sultan to postpone his intended abdication.

LIVERPOOL, July 22.—The Emperor and Empress of Brazil arrived to-day from New York, landed without demonstration, drove to the railway station and proceeded to London.

LONDON, July 22.—The match between England, Scotland, Australian and Canadian teams which began on Wednesday at Wimbledon is considered won by England. The following are the scores at the three ranges 800, 900 and 1000 yards:—England 162, 152, 115; Scotland 152, 148, 135; Australia 144, 124, 97; Canada 139, 107, 91.

LONDON, July 22.—A dispatch from Plymouth says that a few days before the disastrous trial trip of the Thunderer her boilers were tested by hydraulic pressure making necessary the wedging down of safety and all other valves. It has been discovered that the wedges had never been removed. The communication valve was also closed and no steam was able to escape even to the engine.

EASTERN STATES.

NEW YORK, July 22.—Cool investigation confirms the original conviction that the capsizing of the yacht Mohawk was the result of grossest mismanagement by her sailing master who took not the slightest precaution against a squall, the approach of which was evident to everybody else. He had set full canvass while the vessel was anchored. When the squall struck she was only beginning to get headway so the whole force of the wind was expended in drawing her down sideways. The evidence shows also that her crew were undisciplined through inefficiency of the master, otherwise the cabin inmates might have been rescued after the capsize. The testimony shows that Commodore Garner lost his life in a chivalous effort to save his wife. When the water was already up to his neck he replied to a friend who held his hand trying to pull him towards the hatch "My God I cannot leave my wife," next instant the rush of water overwhelmed him. The ladies appear to have been held down by the pig lead ballast which broke through into the cabin when the yacht careened. Col. Crosby who was saved says "when it began to rain hard we all ran down into the cabin for shelter, we had been there four or five minutes when we heard a noise of wind and at the same time the vessel gave a tremendous lurch to port upsetting the cabin table and throwing the contents of that and the sideboard on the floor. Garner, Howland, Thorne and myself ran on deck, Montaint remaining in the cabin. The sailing master was at the wheel but I did not hear him give any orders. When he did give the order it was too late, no one then could have let go the sheets as the decks were perfectly perpendicular. When we saw that the yacht was certain to go over Garner and myself jumped through the companion way into the cabin to save the ladies where they were screaming. When I got into the cabin I saw that all the furniture had fallen to the port side. Miss May was holding on the mantlepiece or shelf, I scrambled to her and brought her to the after hatchway, but the vessel had careened so that no one could ascend the companion way, I had to lift her up through the opening and received assistance from Howland and Montaint." The Coroner's jury in the case of the Mohawk calamity, announced in its verdict that Capt. Howland was not guilty of any criminal negligence and he was at once discharged.

DELAYED DISPATCHES.

EASTERN STATES.

NEW YORK, July 18.—A special says it is stated here that the conditions upon which England is willing to adhere to the agreement of the two Emperors include these: That neither of the belligerents receive direct or indirect aid from abroad; mediation to be interposed at the request of beligerents or the invitation of the Powers; no Power to be allowed to take any step without notifying the Porte and obtaining the consent of the others; territorial changes to be settled after the war by all the Powers after hearing the views of the Porte on the subject.

CHEYENNE, July 19th.—General Merritt, having marched nearly one hundred miles in thirty-six hours, successfully intercepted the 800 Cheyennes who had left the Agency, and drove them back to that place.

General Sheridan has instructed both Crook and Terry to join forces as soon as it can be found practicable, and make a united attack, as it is now positively known that the Indians under Sitting Bull already outnumber the regular forces. The head officials at army headquarters express the hope that a decisive blow can be struck before fall.

CHICAGO, July 19th.—An Inter-Ocean's special says there is very little speculation in regard to the verdict in the Belknap impeachment case, for acquittal is regarded as a foregone conclusion, as more than two-thirds of the Senate have already expressed themselves of the opinion that there was no law under which they could try the case.

BOSTON, July 19th.—A terrible fire has been raging in the woods of Cape Cod, in the neighborhood of Yarmouth, since yesterday morning. It was started by some boys near the village of Weir. It rapidly spread to the town of Dennis and crossed to Middleton, destroying several buildings. At noon to-day it was raging and rapidly nearing the Harwick track, being ten miles long and two or three wide. Some thirty square miles of territory are swept by the flames.

The loss is roughly estimated at $250,000. A force of 300 men are vainly endeavouring to stop the progress of the fire.

NEW YORK, July 20.—Don Carlos arrived in this city Tuesday night. He was accompanied by Gen. Velasco, chamberlain to the Prince, Count Ponce De Leon and Viscount Moltzerrol. The party is at Windsor hotel and it is their intention to remain in the city till Monday, when they will start for Niagara and will then visit Newport. The party will start for Europe Saturday, 29th.

ST. PAUL, Minn., July 20.—A Pioneer Press and Tribune special, from Bismarck, says the statement that Sitting Bull was killed in the fight with Custer, is confirmed from Indian sources. Crazy Horse and Black Moon are also killed.

NEW YORK, July 21.—The bodies of Commodore Garner and wife, Miss Adele Hundter and cabin boy Peter Sullivan, have been recovered from the yacht Mohawk, sunk at her anchorage by a squall yesterday afternoon. Frost Thorne, his brother and Mrs. Grrnier are still missing. It is thought they have been swept into the bay and drowned.

The body of Mr. Garnier has been recovered from the yacht Mohawk, and divers are endeavoring to secure other bodies. Stapleton and New Brighton are draped in mourning. The sailors charge the whole misfortune upon Captain Rawlings, and he remains under arrest.

COHOES, July 21.—The extensive Harmony mills, of this city, of which Mr. Garner was President, will be closed at noon to-day in respect to his memory.

EUROPE.

LONDON, July 20th.—4 A. M.—Dundee wharf, at Whapping, a mile or so below London Bridge, took fire at midnight, and is still burning. The upper stories are gutted. Johnson's wharf and Jolly's warehouse are threatened.

Oldham, Solton & Co. have resolved to run their mills only four days in the week. The wages of five thousand operatives are thereby decreased.

LONDON, July 19.—Morning—A deputation of workmen waited on a large meeting of Lancashire cotton spinners yesterday at Manchester and persuaded them to postpone the reduction of wages for a month.

LONDON, July 20th.—It was recently reported that a well-known firm in Cleveland district, one of the largest in the iron industry and a gigantic financial concern, was seriously embarrassed. The Financier this morning says it is understood that a balance-sheet is to be submitted to the meeting to-day, showing the liabilities of the concern to be about £1,000,000 with little or no assets, after the payment of the first mortgage claims.

ST. PETERSBURG, July 19th.—The Gazette announces that the agreement between the Emperors at Reichstadt on the Eastern questsou was only temporary. Differences have already arisen. The Russians regard the war as a wholly Slavonian cause, and the Czar will not act in opposition to known sympathies of his subjects.

LONDON, June 22.—The Times reviewing the differences between England and Russia manifested by Eastern correspondence, says the policy of non-intervention was adopted by England because of a rooted position to intervene; but it is difficult to believe that Russia had any other motive for reserve than an inability to interfere effectively.

The Times Vienna telegram says the insurrection in Bulgaria is reviving in all directions; all the roads are fast becoming insecure because of Insurgent bands. Extensive military preparations are progressing in Epirus and Thissaly. The Paris Opinione, in a special, says the Turks are importing large supplies of rifles and mountain artillery, and enrolling militia to suppress any attempt at insurrection. Seven thousand Asiatics are now stationed at Thissaly. The Standard says: We are warranted in inferring from Earl Derby's language, when asking Lord Granville to postpone his extradition motion in the House of Lords, that there is a prospect of negotiations for the renewal of the treaty on a more satisfactory basis. Minister Pierrepont must either have made some distinct proposals or received instructions to do so. It is probable the turn matters have taken may prevent discussion during the present session.

LONDON, July 20—4 p. m.—Dundee wharf, at Whapping, a mile or so below London bridge, took fire at midnight and is still burning; the upper stories are gutted. Johnson's wharf and Jolly's warehouse are threatened.

LONDON, July 20.—Reports from Paratjip are that the Servian general, Leschenajin, attacked the village of Isvor, near Steacar, which was held by the Turks. Leschenajin had 10,000 Servian troops, and the Turks were 12,000 strong. The fighting was of the most desperate character, but the battle was without result.

WEST INDIES.

HAVANA, July 19th.—Thos Benitz & Co., general commission merchants and dealers in provisions in this city, have failed. Liabilities $500.000

CANADA.

MONTREAL, July 19th.—The extensive sawmill of Gouthrie, Vigneau & Co., at Sorel was burned yesterday. Loss $45,000, small insurance.

TORONTO, July 20.—Information just received from St. Casimer, Port Neuf, says the parish was recently visited by a severe hail storm, which almost completely annihilated the growing crops upon about 500 farms, and, to cap the climax, the grasshoppers are finishing what the hail left.

Canadian Mail.

Montreal, July 8.—To-day is the hottest of the season, the thermometer registering 86 degs in the shade at half-past one o'clock. It is stated that three cases of incipient sunstroke have occurred during the past couple of days in the city. In the neighborhood of St Jean Baptiste village a young girl is said to have been fatally sun struck, while a man in Dorchester died from the same.

Montreal, July 9.—To-day has been extremely hot; two cases of sunstroke are reported. Thermometer 106 degs in the shade.

Gen. G. B. McLellan and family arrived in Cobourg last evening. They intend remaining there during the summer.

It is reported here by the members of the Irish Home Rule League that Messrs. Butt, Q. C., M. P. and O'Connor Power will visit this country in August, and have signified their intention of making a considerable sojourn in this city.

Professor Sir Wm. Thompson, F. R. S. of England, arrived this evening.

A failure is reported in the city to-day for $300,000. The house has been in difficulties for some time. A large amount of the liabilities are due in Montreal.

On the 22nd June the first link of the Canada Pacific Telegraph line was opened between Prince Arthur's Landing and Fort William. It is expected that in a short time the telegraph line will be in working order up to the Sun Shine over 30 miles, West of London it is announced the fruit crop promises to be abundant. Already a Detroit firm have contracted for a supply of three thousand barrels of apples from the township of Howard and Blenheim, county of Kent.

The Merchant Shipping Bill, as revised, allows three feet deck loads, and makes other concessions to Canadian interests. The Bill, after passing the Lords, must be referred back to the Commons for approval, owing to the alterations made.

A SPAT WITH A JUDGE.— English courts of law are not always so stupidly proper as John Bull pretends that they are when he wishes to humiliate our uproarious nation. Who can have forgotton the fight at the Marylebone Police Court, when the noble friends of the Lord Carington walloped the police and the backers of Mr. Grenville Murray, and carried off a box of valuable documents from under the very eyes of the justice. And during the assistant judge's summing up the other day at the Middlesex Sessions there was a very pretty little tussle. Looking across to where a lawyer, Mr. Warner Sleigh, was sitting conversing sotto voce with his clerk, the judge exclaimed, in a loud and angry tone, "I trust I shall have silence there; this talk in court is most improper and disrespectful.' Mr. Sleigh: "I was merely asking my clerk to procure me a book; I apologize to your Lordship.' The Judge: 'Then your clerk should know how to speak when here, in a much lower and more respectful tone.' Mr. Sleigh: "My clerk didn't speak at all; it was I, and I have already apologized to your Lordship.' The Judge: "Your manner, sir, is most disrespectful to the court, and I beg of you to remember what is due to us.' Mr. Sleigh (energetically): "Don't attack me, my lord! you have no right to do so.' The Judge (warmly): "I shall speak to you very strongly unless you desist, and rebuke you in terms which your manner towards us merits.' Mr. Sleigh: "And I am perfectly prepared to receive the rebuke.' The Judge (incensed): "Sit down, sir! sit down, and let us proceed.' Mr. Sleigh: "I am not standing up, my lord, at the present moment.' So ended this pleasing scene, and Astrea smoothed her rumpled hair

D R. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S
(Ex Army Med Staff)
CHLORODYNE
IS THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY GENUINE.

CAUTION—Vice-Chancellor Sir W P Wood stated that Dr. COLLIS BROWNE was undoubtedly the inventor of CHLORODYNE: that the story of the defendant, Freeman, being the inventor was deliberately untrue which he regretted had been sworn to. Eminent Hospital Physicians of London stated that Dr J Collis Browne was the discoverer of Chlorodyne: that they prescribe it largely and mean no other than Dr Browne's—See TIMES, July 12, 1864.

The Public therefore are cautioned against using any other than

DR J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE.

REMEDIAL USES AND ACTION.

This INVALUABLE REMEDY produces quiet, or freshing sleep, relieves pain, calms the nervous system restores the deranged functions and stimulates healthy action of the secretions of the body without creating any o ithose unpleasant results attending the use of opium. Old and young may take it at all hours and times when requisite. Thousands of persons testify to its marvelous good effects and wonderful cures while medical men extol its virtues most extensively using it in great quantities in the following diseases:—

Diseases in which it is found eminently useful—Cholera, Dysentery, Diarrhœa, Colics, Coughs, Asthma Cramp Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Cough, Hysteria, be

The Right Hon Earl Russell communicated to the College of Physicians and J T Davenport that he had received information to the effect that the only remedy of any service in Cholera was Chlorodyne.—See Lancet Dec 31, 1864.

From A Montgomery, Esq., late inspector of Hospitals, Bombay: Chlorodyne is a most valuable remedy for Neuralgia, Asthma and Dysentery. To it I fairly owe my restoration to health after eighteen months severe suffering, and when other medicines had failed

Dr. Lowe, Medical Missionary in India reports (Dec 1865) that in nearly every case of Cholera in which Dr Collis Brownes' Chlorodyne was administered the patient recovered.

Extract from Medical Times, Jan 10, 1866—Chlorodyne is prescribed by scores of orthodox remedical practitioners. Of course it would not thus be singularly popular did it not supply a want and fill a place.

Extract from the general Board of Health, London, as to its efficacy in Cholera.—So strongly are we convinced of the immense value of this remedy that we cannot too forcibly urge the necessity of adopting it in all cases.

Beware of spurious and dangerous compounds sold as CHLORODYNE from which frequen tfatal results have followed

See leading article, Pharmaceutical Journal, Aug 1, 1869, which states that Dr J. Collis Browne was the inventor of Chlorodyne: that it is always right to use his preparation when Chlorodyne is ordered. Sold in bottles at 1s 1½d, 2s 9d, 4s 6d, and 11s each.

CAUTION—None genuine without the words "Dr. J. Collis Browne" on the Government stamp. Overwhelming medical testimony accompanies each bottle.
